

Wednesday, December 3, 2003

From Kingston brings in the season...

By Anne Pickering

Roane County News

The parade embodied the spirit of Christmas, but one group found the chance to present a more sobering message. One group of kids distributed leaflets called Clayton's Lesson 2003. The pamphlet was an anti-drug message dedicated to Clayton James Smith, a 17-year-old senior at Oliver Springs High School. Smith recently died in what officials say was an apparent drug overdose.